Why Share?

Links Information

Detect Relationships

Connect the Dots

North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation

Why do we need a nationwide sharing repository?

- Detects relationships between people, vehicles/property, location and /or crime characteristics
- Links information across jurisdictions
- Connects the dots between data that may be seemingly unrelated
- Supports multi-jurisdictional task forces

Why Use N-DEx

- Free to your Agency
- Find Relationships and Associations with Subjects of Interest
- Discover Identifying Information and History with Subjects of Interest
- Locate Fugitives
- Solve Cases!

North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation

- The N-DEx system fills information gaps and compliments other well-known systems such as the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) and Interstate Identification Index (III).
- The N-DEx system is NOT A SUBSTITUTE FOR NCIC CRIMINAL HISTORIES

Federal, State, Local & Tribal Contributors

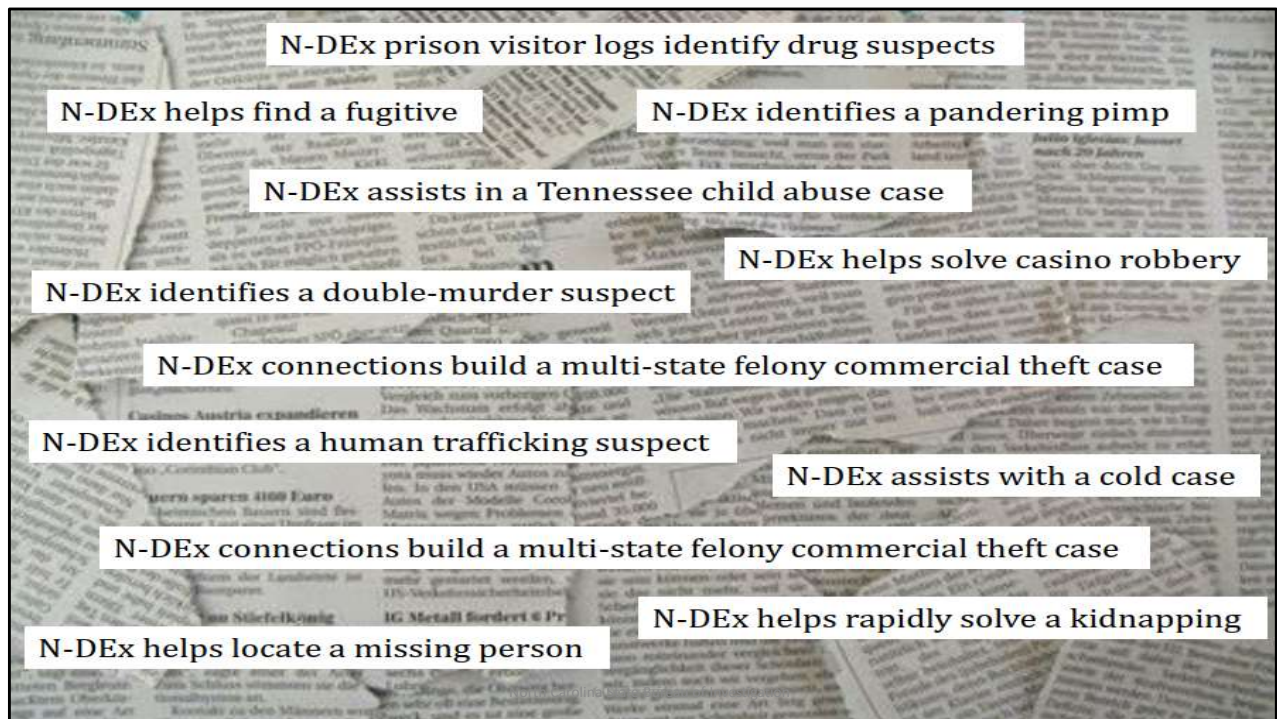

North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation

Federal Contributors include:

- US Dept. of Justice
- US Marshals
- DEA
- FBI
- Interpol
- Homeland Security

Key word and targeted searches such as name, vehicle and telephone number

- Headlines for N-Dex assisting law enforcement
- Charlotte Mecklenburg Police Department homicide case solved by locating phone number search in N-Dex.
  - N-Dex contained suspect information from US Marshals on separate warrant.
